

Allowing Your Vision to Manifest.

Breathe and allow your vision to manifest into such that you can feel yourself experiencing it. First, do it for you. Very soon, you are affecting the entire consciousness of humanity. Create that which feels good and right. Allowing is one of the most important parts because we all have so many limiting programs which tell us "you can never do that", or, "you are just not good enough", or, "you do not deserve to be happy or to have what you want". or, "you must work hard all day, every day, it's just the way it is."

These are all powerful programs set to limit you and to hold you back from creating all that you desire. Having an awareness of this is a big step toward being able to prevent these programs from stopping you from manifesting your vision and dreams. Recognize what it is you really wish to create and do what it takes to make it happen. Recognize the bumps in the road as just that - small hazards to slow you down and keep you in balance. Keep the vision at all times and never give up. Allow the contrasting experiences, but then move on. This will take you to where you choose to be and knowing that it is never done, but enjoyable all ways.
