

Heartacious Inflowment and Creativity

When we re-cognize what true, authentic, inherent, organic natural power is, then we re-integrate with our greater selves in balance and harmony.

Not only are we balanced within ourselves, balanced between heart and mind, masculine and feminine, with true Love for ourselves, we are also balanced with all around us and we reach heartacious inflowment.

This is when we make big, no, HUGE changes here on Earth. We are willing to open our hearts to this – we use our will – which IS our authentic power – and all there is, is heartacious inflowment and heartacious creativity.
